Well, thank you Steve Teer and Joel Zucker for the nice review of the contest Saturday. It was a great location, and the weather was off the hook. The wind was very good to us, as it only came up for a short time. There were some great jobs done on the field, as well as behind the lines. A huge thank you goes out to Valerie Walsh and her friend Yvonne Gonzales for an outstanding job helping Kathy with sign-up, calculating scores and keeping logic and sense to the whole day. Without those three ladies, we could have complete kayos. Thank you to Jeff Lundberg, Robert Shacklton, Eric Greywingholt and Kevin Lundberg for a great job on the field judging and handling setup and breakdown between rounds.

The field was unbelievable; it was like playing on a putting green that had not been cut for a few days. There were far fewer skip shots than I expected, but those which were done were sweet..... The ground crew was a bit edgy about what was put on the grass; they would not even let me do the lines. I flagged the field layout, and then Peter (Ground crew for the park) did the lining. Not that I minded, but what can you do to mess up the ground putting gypsum power down.... Oh well. All of the contestants Costco Condos had to be placed on the warning track to avoid the legs sinking in the grass, and the two we set up on the field for registration and PA area had to have plywood under chairs, tables, etc. any thing that was small enough to sink in the ground. It was a shame, but the park had to cancel the season opener the night before due to the field being so wet. It dried out great for our use on Saturday, but while we were playing, the diamond was being dug up to dry it deep into the ground.

Anyway, thank you to all the competitors from the SW Region who traveled to support and take part in this year's championships. Below is the order of finish with scores.

Congratulations to all the Contestants, in my book you are all winners.....

What a great group of competitors; Thanx to one and all. Please note, if you see any calculation errors, ignore them cuz it would be just my typo error. The order is correct no matter what. Thank you to the Humane Society of San Bernardino Valley, Arrowhead Credit Union Park and the San Bernardino city ground crew who provided support to this contest. And Most of All, Thank you to Skyhoundz Atlanta and Hyperflite Inc. for their support because without them, this and many other events across the country would not happen.
